Kamloops Order Picker License

Kamloops Order Picker License - Order preparation operation or also called order picking as it is more normally known is a method utilized in warehouse operations and consists of workers known as order pickers. The order picker's duty is to take and collect articles in certain quantities to be able to fulfill the client's orders prior to shipment. Order picking is a basic warehousing method. The effectiveness in which this task is done can be directly linked to the productivity of a supply chain. Hence, order picking is one of the most controlled logistic methods. Order picking falls in the category of the warehouse management system.

There are some certain kinds of order picking. The main kinds include: pick to box method, wave picking method, piece picking or picker to part method, zone picking method and sorting systems method.

The pick to box method consists of the order picker only filling the boxes with stuff which are from their specific station. The box then moves on to other stations to until the order is complete. In this technique, there is no movement of the order picker staff. In the wave picking method, the order pickers move all-around to be able to collect the required products for several orders. The picker to part method or piece picking is similar where the order picker or pickers move to collect the stuff needed but for one order only.

There is no movement by the order picker in the sorting systems method. Rather, things are delivered to the orderpicker by an automatic system like a conveyor system or an automatic storage system. In the zone picking method, every order picker is assigned to one particular zone. They are responsible for only realizing order picking within this specified zone.